ABOUT ANIKA SKY

Anika Sky's music is eccentric, quirky, fun, and musically compelling. Anika started playing shows in her hometown of St. Petersburg, FL at the age of 10 and is now studying at Berklee College Of Music in Boston, MA. With years of experience in different environments, Anika has always strived to find a unique sound that incorporates elements of each genre of music she has studied over the years. After finding like minded people at Berklee, Anika formed her band "The Anika Sky Orbit", playing both her originals and popular cover songs with a jazz-y spin. Since forming, they have played various venues around Boston. Anika released her debut EP "Eyespot" on all streaming platforms in 2022, and just released her newest single "Lost Cause".
